

Open Auditions Jan 25 2018

5-8pm
Yale University
Theatre Studies
220 York

Seeking 6-7 Actors for a Staged Reading of a New Play

Professional & Student Actors

Seeking Actors with a Range of Abilities & Disabilities

(casting against ability type, with commitment to casting actors with disabilities)

Performance Dates

Rehearsals: Intermittent, February 2018-March 2 2018

Performance: March 2-3, 2018

in the Motion Studio at Yale University's

Center for Collaborative Arts and Media

Contact

for more information, sides, or accessibility requests:

Elise Morrison (Director)

elise.morrison@yale.edu

Cassandra Hartblay (Playwright-Ethnographer)

cassandra.hartblay@yale.edu - 919-619-8623

I WAS NEVER ALONE

is a new play based on research with adults living with a variety of disabilities in contemporary Russia. The play script draws directly from interview transcripts to create original character portraits woven together as a 90-minute play (a 7-12 minute monologue for each role). In English with some Russian words and phrases (not in dialect).

Available roles, additional info about the play, and sign-up for audition time slots online at

<https://cassandrahartblay.com/i-was-never-alone/>